Vol. 29, No. 1

Special Issue: Characterization and Cleaunup of Chemical Waste Sites, Part 2. Based on the Symposium on Characterization and Cleaunup of Chemical Waste Sites, American Chemical Society 200th National Meeting, Division of Industrial & Engineering Chemistry, Washington, DC, U.S.A., August 29, 1990

Preface 1

Volatile organic compounds in contaminated soils: The nature and validity of the measurement process
R.L. Siegrist (Oak Ridge, TN, U.S.A.) 3

Comparison of the effects of geologic environment on volatile organic plume development
W.D. Adams and J.E. Golden (Orlando, FL, U.S.A.) 17

Groundwater recovery and treatment for chlorinated organic compounds
L. Breitstein, A. Forrest and R.L. Frew (Bethesda, MD, U.S.A.) 43

Performance of soil flushing and groundwater extraction at the United Chrome Superfund site
S.G. Sturges, Jr., P. McBeth, Jr. and R.C. Pratt (Corvallis, OR, U.S.A.) 59

Tannery wastes definition, risk assessment and cleanup options, Berkeley, California
R.S. Makdisi (Berkely, CA, U.S.A.) 79

Process development for remediation of phenolic waste lagoons
R. Arands, D. Kuczykowski and D. Kosson (Piscataway, NJ, U.S.A.) 97

Sludge characterization, removal, and dewatering
J.G. Mott and S. Romanov (Reston, VA, U.S.A.) 127

Vol. 29, No. 2

Special issue: Waste Minimization

Guest Editorial 141

Review
A ten year review of plastics recycling
S.G. Howell (Cincinnati, OH, U.S.A.) 143

Incentives for solving the scrap tire problem through existing markets
H.C. Goddard (Cincinnati, OH, U.S.A.) 165

Chemical substitution for 1,1,1-trichloroethane and methanol in an industrial cleaning operation

L.M. Brown, J. Springer (Cincinnati, OH, U.S.A.) and
M. Bower (Dayton, OH, U.S.A.) 179

Waste minimization practices in the petroleum refining industry
L.M. Curran (Naperville, IL, U.S.A.) 189

Illinois' program to promote industrial waste reduction
D.L. Thomas and G.D. Miller (Champaign, IL, U.S.A.) 199

An integrated approach to process waste minimization research
Y. Cohen and D. Allen (Los Angeles, CA, U.S.A.) 237

Stabilization and hydrometallurgical treatment of flyash from a municipal incinerator
M.D. McKinley, G.W. Warren, S.M. Lahoti and K. Sreenivasarao
(Tuscaloosa, AL, U.S.A.) 255

Pollution prevention methods in the surface coating industry
P.M. Randall (Cincinnati, OH, U.S.A.) 275

Reclaiming fiber from newsprint dry methods
D.E. Gunderson, C.T. Scott, R.L. Gleisner (Madison, WI, U.S.A.) and T.M. Harten
(Cincinnati, OH, U.S.A.) 297

Vol. 29, No. 3

Special Issue: Safety and Risk Analysis

Preface i

Experience with probabilistic risk assessment in the nuclear power industry
J.S. Wu and G.E. Apostolakis (Los Angeles, CA, U.S.A.) 313

Uncertainties in chemical risk assessment: Results of a European benchmark exercise
A. Amendola, S. Contini (Ispra, Italy) and I. Ziomas (Thessaloniki, Greece) 347

A perspective on structured expert judgement
J.F.J. van Steen (Apeldoorn, Netherlands) 365

Use of toxicity information in risk assessment for accidental releases of toxic gases
G. Alexeeff, D. Lewis and M. Lipsett (Berkeley, CA, U.S.A.) 387

A consequence model for chlorine and ammonia based on a fatality index approach
L. Brockhoff (Ispra, Italy), H.J.S. Petersen (Lyngby, Denmark)
and P. Haastrup (Ispra, Italy) 405

Experiences in planning process changes on the bases of consequence and risk assessment
R. Kakko, J. Virtanen (Tampere, Finland) and R. Lautkaski (Helsinki, Finland) 427

Computer tools for hazard identification, modelling and analysis
P. Heino (Tampere, Finland), A. Poucet (Ispra, Italy) and J. Suokas (Tampere, Finland) 445

Review
Risk communication: Towards a rational discourse with the public
O. Renn (Worcester, MA, U.S.A.) 465
